

CODEPINK

WOMEN FOR PEACE

CODEPINK is a women-initiated grassroots peace and social justice movement working to end the war in Iraq, stop new wars, and redirect our resources into healthcare, education and other life-affirming activities. CODEPINK rejects the Bush administration's fear-based politics that justify violence, and instead calls for policies based on compassion, kindness and a commitment to international law. With an emphasis on joy and humor, CODEPINK women and men seek to activate, amplify and inspire a community of peacemakers through creative campaigns and a commitment to non-violence.

CODEPINK can be found at presidential speeches and in the halls of Congress, in the neighborhoods of Baghdad and the streets of Manhattan — vigiling, chanting, protesting, and making peace wherever peace needs making.

We call on all outraged women and men to join us in taking a stand now. Engage in outrageous acts of dissent. Get active and get effective. Throw on your pink attire and join us for the most fun you'll ever have working to make our world a more just, peaceful place.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED:

1. Sign up for our weekly national e-alerts at www.codepinkalert.org.
2. There are over 160 local CODEPINK groups nationwide. Check our website for a local group near you or start your own group by registering yourself as the group coordinator through the website. Check out our organizing resources in the online toolbox.
3. Take action: You can do something as simple as calling your senator or something as daring as protesting inside the Republican National Convention. You can research where your tax dollars are going, hold a peace vigil, speak out against military recruitment at your local school board meeting, or organize to bring the National Guard home in your state. The more you take action, the more you'll find that when women lead, the leaders will follow!
4. Educate yourself about effective responses to violence and terrorism by reading CODEPINK's Stop the Next War Now. Support CODEPINK's work for peace by purchasing pink clothing and gear through our online store or by making a donation.

415.575.5555 | 310.827.4320 | info@codepinkalert.org | www.codepinkalert.org

CODEPINK

WOMEN FOR PEACE

CODEPINK is a women-initiated grassroots peace and social justice movement working to end the war in Iraq, stop new wars, and redirect our resources into healthcare, education and other life-affirming activities. CODEPINK rejects the Bush administration's fear-based politics that justify violence, and instead calls for policies based on compassion, kindness and a commitment to international law. With an emphasis on joy and humor, CODEPINK women and men seek to activate, amplify and inspire a community of peacemakers through creative campaigns and a commitment to non-violence.

CODEPINK can be found at presidential speeches and in the halls of Congress, in the neighborhoods of Baghdad and the streets of Manhattan — vigiling, chanting, protesting, and making peace wherever peace needs making.

We call on all outraged women and men to join us in taking a stand now. Engage in outrageous acts of dissent. Get active and get effective. Throw on your pink attire and join us for the most fun you'll ever have working to make our world a more just, peaceful place.

HOW TO GET INVOLVED:

1. Sign up for our weekly national e-alerts at www.codepinkalert.org.
2. There are over 160 local CODEPINK groups nationwide. Check our website for a local group near you or start your own group by registering yourself as the group coordinator through the website. Check out our organizing resources in the online toolbox.
3. Take action: You can do something as simple as calling your senator or something as daring as protesting inside the Republican National Convention. You can research where your tax dollars are going, hold a peace vigil, speak out against military recruitment at your local school board meeting, or organize to bring the National Guard home in your state. The more you take action, the more you'll find that when women lead, the leaders will follow!
4. Educate yourself about effective responses to violence and terrorism by reading CODEPINK's Stop the Next War Now. Support CODEPINK's work for peace by purchasing pink clothing and gear through our online store or by making a donation.

415.575.5555 | 310.827.4320 | info@codepinkalert.org | www.codepinkalert.org