

Our nation's fiscal crisis is in large part due to the current spending on endless war in Iraq, Afghanistan, and Pakistan. The current wars and occupations will cost US taxpayers nearly $3 trillion. (Washington Post, The true cost of the Iraq war: $3 trillion and beyond, by Stiglitz and Bilmes, 9/5/10)

We invite you to imagine how that war money could have been spent in your own state, your own community, on education, health care, social programs, repairing our decaying roads and bridges, green jobs and more.

FORTY STATES in the US today are in fiscal crisis. We must urge our elected officials to speak out against the continued war spending that is hurting our communities!
